DETAILED ACTION

Claims

1. Claims 52-63 recite "A method according to.." and depend directly or indirectly from a claim 48 which is a package claim. These claims are assumed to be package claims for the purposes of the below restriction.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 42-47, 49-51, 64-67, 71-79 and 81-83, drawn to a method of packaging a fresh product.

Group II, claim(s) 48, 52-63, 68-70 and 80, drawn to a package containing a product.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The common technical feature of Groups I and II appears to be a package that is microwavable such that produce can be heated in the microwave while in the package so as to be ready for serving directly to the consumer from the package, and that there is naturally occurring movement of gases within the package thereby allowing interaction to take place between the package and gases in the atmosphere in order to eliminate the need for mechanical or chemical interference of the product in the package.

4. Wystosky discloses a package for food such has fresh fruits and vegetables that is comprised of self-supporting, substantially transparent, microwaveable, multilayer thermoplastic materials that have selected oxygen permeability characteristics whereby the sealed container is capable maintaining a substantially stable, reduced oxygen atmosphere over a food product sealed within the container ([007] and [0011]).

5. Wystosky fails to teach the treating fresh vegetables while substantially fresh from harvest in order to enhance properties.

6. Lin discloses a device for treating vegetables with ultrasonic cleaning in order to remove practically all residues of contaminants such as mud, biological dirt, microbiological flora and chemicals from rough or smooth surfaces of fruit and vegetables of all types (col. 2, lines 4-13).

7. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, at the time of the invention, to use ultrasonic cleaning to treat the fresh vegetables of Wystosky in order to clean the fresh vegetables. One of ordinary skill in the art would be motivated to clean the fresh vegetables through ultrasonic cleaning because this type of cleaning removes practically all residues of contaminants and chemicals from the rough and smooth surfaces of fruit and vegetables.

8. Therefore, there is no special corresponding technical feature among the claim groups of the claimed invention because the corresponding technical feature is not found to define a contribution over the prior art. Furthermore, there is a lack of unity of invention and a restriction requirement is proper.

9. A telephone call was made to Attorney John Reed on February 11, 2009 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

11. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

12. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

13. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

14. In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
